TREASURER'S OFFICE WARNS OF POSSIBLE SCAM

Carson City—State Treasurer Kate Marshall today issued a warning to those who may be approached at their home by someone claiming to be an employee of her Unclaimed Property Division or an heir finder offering their assistance in helping the person file an unclaimed property claim.

Deputy Treasurer for Unclaimed Property Kelli Miller said her office has received several phone calls about people approaching them at their home with an unclaimed property claim form in hand, offering assistance in filing the claim for a fee.

Marshall explained, "No one needs the services of an heir finder to file a claim with my office. It's a free service we offer to the people of Nevada. Simple go to our website, NevadaTreasurer.gov, and click on the yellow "Search for Unclaimed Property" box on the left-side of the home screen. Type in your name and see if we may have anything we are safeguarding in your name. If so, file a claim on your own."

The Treasurer's Office encourages people who may be approached at their home concerning a possible unclaimed property claim to contact their office at (702) 486-4140.
